General Information

www.virtualtourist.com/travel/Asia/India

www.karnatakaturism.org

India is chaotic but very interesting. You will love or you will hate it.

If you know how to bargain you can live very cheap. You should discover the local prices before you bargain.

Be sure to have a reservation before you travel by train. It's better to stay till you have one. If you travel a longer distance take a 2nd class upstairs sleeper. That relates to all trains in India. Otherwise you have to travel sometimes in an overcrowded wagon or on the rooftop with is both an adventure. Food and tea is available on the train or at the platforms. Try it because it's very tasty but have some small change ready.

Trains have received a great improvement since my last travel in 1998:

- The almost non present dim lights where changed to modern fluorescent lamps which are emitting a bright light even when the train stops at a station.
- For some trains everyone needs a reservation ticket, so the train never gets crowded like in previous times.
- The old ventilators on the ceiling where exchanged to two non-oscillating ones. Now the upstairs sleeper is brighter but no cooling wind anymore.
- Ticket confirmation by telephone is easy and clearly understandable.

Agra (03/07)

Accommodation:

Shanti Lodge
Chowk Kagjiyan
South Gate
Taj Mahal
Tel.: 0562 - 2231973

shantilodge2000@yahoo.co.in

The Shanti Lodge has single rooms for 150 Rs with own shower and double for 250 Rs which are a little better maintained and have hot water 24 hours. Only the essential mosquito net is missing which is a big minus. The view from the rooftop restaurant is great even the name "waiter" is not the right word for this lovely chaos-team (If they have no change they may ask you to take three bottles of water instead ;-). To enjoy the nice view you must not stay in the lodge.

Sight Seeing:

Taj Mahal

The 750 Rs entrance fee includes one 500 ml bottle of water and a pair of shoe covers. Tourists can only enter at the east gate which is open from 6 AM. It's worth to come early because after 8 AM it's getting crowded. Video taping is not allowed inside the main complex.

With the ticket you get 50 Rs discount by visiting the following sites at the same day: Agra Fort, Itimadud-Daula, Sikandra and Fatehpur Sikri.

Travel:

Bus to Fatehpur is 22 Rs and takes 1 hour.

At the railway station near the entrance for the "Unreserved II class booking office" is a "Prepaid auto riksha" booth, where you can book transfers to the most touristy places in Agra with fix prices.

Several trains running to New Delhi daily. The Kerala-Express leaves at 10 AM for 60 Rs unreserved 2nd class seat or 141 Rs for a sleeper. It's 6 hours.

Amritsar (03/98)

Accommodation:

Stay next to the Golden Temple where the pilgrims are staying. There is a room only for foreigners. You should pay a donation as you want.

Anjuna (03/07) Map1 , Map2

Accommodation:

Ocean Pearl Guesthouse

Prais Vaddo

Tel: 2274451

Guesthouse Ocean Pearl has clean rooms with own bathroom and fan for 500 Rs without and 600 Rs with ocean view.

Friendly owner, nice garden, directly at the shore, silent, little overpriced. Pic

Recommendable.

Food:

Looda Restaurant

The bar / restaurant Looda is a little further down the beach and offers live music every Wednesday at 5 PM. It's packed with foreigners.

Useful:

For a swim you should walk from Ocean Pearl some 200 meters down to the Sunset / Shore bar where the beach has fewer rocks than in front of the guesthouse.

The beaches in Anjuna and Vagator are not that beautiful as around Palolem and more expensive too. Lots of foreigners seems to be at home and do not respect the Indian culture and laws here. Drugs are offered and consumed everywhere, topless sunbathing and many more are the dark side of the former "Hippie Hype".

At the south end of the beach is the spot for paraglider, banana riders and water skiers.

The huge market every Wednesday is definitely worth a visit. Find a large variety of garments, traditional styles, music, touristy gifts and useless souvenirs in one of the many alleys and be at Looda bar before 5 PM to grab a seat for the live music.

Travel:

MGM Travel at the main bus stop can arrange tickets for all kind of transportation. They charge 180 Rs for getting the train ticket from Mapusa. Do not trust their given information as everywhere in India because they could be wrong.

Anjuna to Mapusa by bus is 8 Rs running every half hour from the junction to Vagator.

Mapusa to Thivim Railway Station is 7 Rs with the bus from Mapusa bus terminal. No restaurant and only a few shops are present at the station itself but at the junction where you have to leave the bus and walk some 300 meters uphill to the station are two restaurants offering Indian style food for reasonable prices. The express train to Mumbai stops here (see Mumbai).

The most reason to come here is Ajanta & Ellora. The world heritage listed Buddhist, Hindu and Jain cave temples of Ajanta & Ellora are some of India's greatest sights. Containing rock paintings and sculpture, they represent the culmination of Deccan rock-cut architecture. The masterpiece among the 34 caves is the astonishing Kailasha Temple which is the world's largest monolithic sculpture. ## Bangalore (03/07)

Accommodation:

Royal Lodge

Check out time is check in time. At morning time between 8 and 9 someone will walk through the floors shouting "doobi dobi": It's the laundry man! The laundry will be returned around 5 PM. Map

Highly recommendable.

Food:

Restaurant Volga
41/42, S.C. Road
Tel: 22870040

The Volga offer tasty Indian dishes for reasonable prices in a clean atmosphere. The waiters are helpful by explaining the menu and the order comes quick. But best is at it's rooftop garden (as long as it's not raining :-). Its 50 meter down the road opposite Royal Lodge.
Very recommendable.

Indra Prastha Restaurant

It offers nice vegetarian food for reasonable prices in a clean environment. It's next to Hotel Adora.

Vasudev Adiga's Majestic
K. G. Road
Tel: 30928764

Nice food with self service or seated with a/c which is slightly more expensive. Always crowded and a little overprice compare to Volga Restaurant. Only the special offers like the "Lunch mini meal" are a bargain.

Chicken Corner

Its around the corner of the Royal Lodge is a quick and dirty self-restaurant were you can sit outside and watch the traffic and while you eat some unpleasant meal. It's located at 2nd Cross.
Not recommendable.

Sight Seeing:

The daily offered one day sight seeing tour from the official tourist office takes you to the following sights (extra fees in brackets):

- The Visvesvaraya Art Museum (4 Rs) was "suddenly closed" because of holiday purposes.
- Luckily the nearby Industrial & Technological museum was open. Four floors with engines, electronics and other industrial items where on display. Some movable sample where out of order or out of date. The 3-D-Show is 10 Rs extra.
Not recommendable.
- Tipu Sultans Palace (100 Rs): Old wooden house with a small exhibition of the Tipu Sultan. The nearby colourful Visnu Temple is only opened at night. Save money and just have a look over the fence to the Palace and Temple.
- Commercial store for silk saris (Mysore Silk Emporium): Have 40 minutes left to buy a sari.
- Lalbagh Botanical Garden (7 Rs): A large botanical area with huge trees and lovely flours. The glass houses and flower show was closed. Have an impressive view across the city from the rock at the front of the entrance.
- All other activities where cancelled because the bus broke down: No repair, no spare bus, no refund and no help to get anywhere.

If you like studying Indians on holiday this tour is highly recommendable. Otherwise ignore this offer.

Bull Temple

Discover a big black bull carved form the granite stone on which the temple was build fro. No entrance fee but a donation is expected. You have to leave you shoes at the gate (5 Rs). Nice waste of time.

Useful:

Opposite the Royal Loge is Internet (20 Rs/h), international phone and fax available at the basement.

Travel:

The train ticket reservation office is located at the left side of the railway station in a separate building at the first floor. As the helpful, English speaking Senior Officer for any assistance. His office is next to the staircase).

Not recommendable.

Next to the museum is a nice chill out place with green grass, shadow spending trees and a coffee service. Only the snacks are not recommendable.

Karni-Mata-Temple

It's located at Deshnok, free of charge and a real curiosity. Rats and there leftovers everywhere (and you have to leave your shoes at the entrance :-). They may charge 20 Rs for use of the camera.

At the northeast side of the temple are two recommendable restaurants offering Thali for 30 Rs.

From Bikaner to the temple by bicycle is not very tricky but a long 60 km ride through the dessert: Take the road No. 89 from the railway station to the south. There are a few gasoline stations on the way to Deshnok as well as the village Palana at half of the way. Take loads of suncream with you.

Up

Darjiling (05/98)

The "Tower View Hotel" has dorms for 40Rs.

If you search for tea the best place is at the bazaar near the bus terminal. Ask for "Radhika & Son, Chowk Bazaar, Darjeeling-734101, Phon: 0091-354-54660" south end (downhill) of the bazaar. Friendly English speaking staff who will mail your order for sure.

Sight Seeing:

Around Darjiling are a lot of very nice hikes! Ask the tourist-information for more details. The trek from Manebanjang to Rimbik over Sandakphu (5 to 6 days) is very impressive. You can find good, cheap accommodation with good food and the landscape is wonderful. It was more enjoyable than trekking in Nepal.

Hampi (03/07)

Accommodation:

Herrman's Guest House

Tel.: 08394 – 241393

Herman's Guest House offers shared rooms (not very clean) and small double bedrooms for 100 Rs with shared shower and toilet. Checkout is 10 AM but you can stay longer for half of the room charge. Laundry is 5 Rs per piece. Recommendable.

Sight Seeing:

Hampi is a very nice place where you can spend days to discover the ancient temples and other historical sides. Save the entrance fee at the Elephant Stable by turning left at the ticket office and follow the small river which brings you to a small opening between the Walls.

The temple at the main bazaar is a real rip-off if you bring a video camera. Also how they treat the pure elephant is not funny.

Useful:

Gopi Bicycle Shop

Main Road

Tel.: 08394 – 241695

They offer weak single speed bikes for 30 Rs a day. Most of them are in poor to very poor conditions and most of them have a saddle post which is much too short for non-Indians. Check them well before starting for a longer ride.

The repair of a punctured tube will be 10 Rs per puncture. Finding a repair shop is the biggest problem in the remote. One is between Monkey and Sadu temple.

If you go for the large circle which brings you to the most remote places you have to cross the river twice: At the construction site of the bridge with funny ferries the fare is 10 Rs per person + 10 Rs for the bike. Even they transfer scooters across the river. River crossing at Hampi is 5 Rs per person + 10 for the bike but NO scooters!!!

Carry lot of water and sun cream with you. Some snack might be also helpful.

A booklet with a useful map is available for 20 Rs in most tourist shops.

Hampi is also good for rock climbing. So bring your climbing shoes with and meet here.

Travel:

Bus to Hospet is leaving every half hour at the parking next to Hampi main gate at quarter to and past full hour.

To Mapusa: The night buses are a 500 Rs night mare. Find yourself flying half a meter over your seat when the bus passes one of the many speed breakers on the way with travelling speed. Do not lean out the window at that time! Our bus was announced to leave at 6:30 PM in Hospet in front of a restaurant but started one hour later ;- ) Next stop at 9 PM at a quick and dirty restaurant for 20 minutes. This is the last toilet break! At 4 AM some passengers where changing the bus to Gorkana. Around 6 AM passengers changing bus to Chennai. At 8:15 AM we reached Mapusa two minutes walk form the bus terminal without any sleep but lots of "air time" thanks to the speed breakers. On the other side we had a lot of talking and exchange of stories with other travellers.

It might be better to take the train which runs much smoother, has toilet available at any time, food and drinks are served and cost just half the bus ticket. You just have to change the train in Madgao.

From Madgao to Anjuna and Vagator the bus leaves the terminal every 30 minutes and is 10 Rs. It stops only at the main junction of the villages. From here its 15 minutes walk to the beach.

It seems to be very recommendable according to other travellers. Starting with 125 Rs for a clean single, has a rooftop restaurant with fort view and is organized by a very dedicated female owner.

It's located at the start of the footpath to the fort at the east side of the hill.

Acharya Guest House

Elite Hotel

The Elite Hotel has double with own shower, fan, TV for 400 / 500 Rs with is definitely overpriced. Instead of the announced "Green Courtyard" in the Lonely Planet you will find rubbish and a garage between the washing is hanging. The stuff is helpful and the rooms are silent at night. For that price a piece of soap and a towel should be expected but none are present. Laundry is 10 Rs per piece and return not ironed. The restaurant is a bit rundown and the food can't compete with other location. Only the bakery is recommendable.

Not recommendable.

Food:

The restaurants at the water front at the Tree-Park are tourist rip-off. You have to buy overpriced fishes from the nearby fisherman and wait some hour (or more) to get the prepared which you have to pay extra. For this "extra" you get normally a full board.

Sight Seeing:

2nd & 3rd Floor, no sign outside
Shahid Bhagat Singh Road
Above Shop Citywalk Shoes
Coloba
Mumbai - 400 039
Tel: 2202 6320

Tiny windowless rooms for 450RS. It's just 50 meters away from the hotel Volga II (which offers more comfortable rooms) but if you search for the footprints of Shantaram www.shantaram.com from author Gregory David Roberts it is the authentic place to stay.

It offers tiny rooms with fan (450 Rs) or AC (800 Rs) and shared bath / toilet but without any window. The rooms are clean and the beds are equipped with new sheets. If it's quiet or noisy is dependent on the other guests because the walls are from thin wood and the night bell better than every alarm. You hardly will find better value for money. Laundry is 15 Rs per piece. Map

(08/00)

If you only have to stay overnight for connecting flights the Centaur Hotel is close by the local airport but count one hour to the international at rush-hour. It announces 6000Rs for a single to be in the luxury category but everyone gets 40% discount because it left this class long time ago. The hotel has all facilities including a nice swimming pool. The rooms are well-worn, smelling of insecticides and have a minibar filled with tap water!

The Ramada Hotel Palm Grove at Juhu Beach is luxury with 7200Rs incl. tax for a single. Nice quite rooms with all you need. They have free pick up service. Only the breakfast buffet was disappointing.

Khandani Rajdhani Restaurant

Juma Majid Crawford Mkt.
Mumbai - 2
Tel: 2344 9014

www.rajdhani.co.in

Specialized in Thali for 150Rs, open for lunch 12 to 4 PM and dinner 7 to 10.30 PM. The Rajdhani is a perfect restaurant for Thali and nothing else. 14 different dishes are served from 6 waiters as all you can eat.

Absolutely recommendable

Leopolds

Around the corner of Volga hotel is restaurant Leopolds which is the meeting point for foreigners and good for breakfast too.

Some 200 meters from Volga hotel up the road toward the city center is a McDonald restaurant with AC offering Indian burgers and cold milk shakes at the first floor of the building.

At the street from Churchgate Station to the shore are some "in-restaurants" located.

At Mumbai Central Station is a McDonald and a Rajdhani restaurant which displays the menus. The Thali for 75 Rs is recommendable.

Sight Seeing:

A special experience

Visit the community of Malabar Hill. It's a former illegal shanty town, transferred into a village in the city and now accepted by the local authorities. Nevertheless you can get lost easily if you have not good orientation skills.

Mani Bhavan

It's the house where Mahatma Gandhi lived for more than 17 years. Very touristy but for me the most impressive man lived in India.

Mahalaxmi Temple

Observe the pilgrims to stick coins to the rear wall of the temple and try the typical eatery around the temple.

Dhobi-Ghat

At the Dhobi-Ghat (the biggest laundry in the world) walk to the north side of the ghat and stroll around till some of the youngsters take you for a tour through the ghat. Ask for the price before. Very colourful. Leave the commuter at Mahalaxmi Station to the east.

Elephanta Island

The ticket offices at the Gate of India offering trips to Elephanta Island for 100 Rs (Economic) and 120 Rs (Deluxe) which includes a guided tour. Note that the last guided tour is at 2 PM even when deluxe tickets are sold for later trips. You just spend 20 Rs for nothing! On the boat they try to charge you 10 Rs for using the toilet, 10 Rs for upstairs seats. At the island pay 4 Rs to use the toy train, pay 5 Rs "Tourist Tax" and 250 Rs entrance fee for the caves. Save the entrance fee by keeping right at the end of the stairs and follow the sign "Way to Canon hills". At the 2nd store selling drinks keep left and take the path leading down to the cave at the southeast side of the hill.

Pay 25 Rs for the worst ever eaten Masala Dosa at one of the quick and dirty restaurants located at the stairs.

All in all a nice waste of time. Not recommendable.

Crawford Market

A sign at the main entrance of the Crawford Market indicates that foreigners must be guided by a porter. So do not use the main entrance where the porters are waiting for customer. Use one of the many side entrances. The meat market is busy from 3 to 7 AM. Not much left after 7 AM.

Horse Track

At the horse track are every Sunday horse races from 2 to 6 PM except monsoon season. It's only 25 Rs entrance fee. Mobile phones and cameras are strictly forbidden and can be stored at the entrance. Leave the commuter at Mahalaxmi Station to the west, cross the road and keep left. It's just 5 minutes to walk.

Useful:

Allibhai Premji Tyrewalla is a very honest motorbike dealer but to get a used Enfield is very tricky even for him. His recommendation: Buy one in Goa at the touristy places or in Delhi where the prices are lower.

Travel:

From Mapusa / Madgao to Mumbai: The express train for Mumbai Dadar Terminal is 227 Rs and depart 2:30 PM from Madgao and 3:02 PM from Thivim (see Mapusa). It arrives at Dadar Terminal at 11 PM with approximately 1h delay.

A taxi from Dadar Terminal to Colaba is 250 Rs at night time. Do not believe their information that here is no other possibility to reach the center of Mumbai at night than by taxi. Buy a ticket for the commuter (4 Rs) from the ticket office inside the station and wait at platform no. 3 for the commuter to Victoria Station which is the end of this line. From here to Colaba center it's only 50 Rs with the taxi.

From Mumbai to Udaipur take train 2933 at 1:40 PM for 142 Rs which arrives at Ahmedabad at 9:20 PM. Change to train 9944 leaving Ahmedabad at 11:15 PM arriving in Udaipur at 8 AM. It's 164 Rs for a sleeper. Have breakfast at the station in Udaipur.

By entering the country at the international airport there are some reliable hotel booking offices after customs control. They have all categories of accommodation with fixed prices. You can get a voucher with the fixed price when you have chosen one. Make sure that its including tax. They have taxis to any of their places for 300Rs.

To get a prepaid taxi keep right when leaving the building. Short after the crowd is a window where you have to "queue" in. It is 143Rs to any place in Mumbai plus 20Rs each large and 3Rs for small luggage. On your receipt is the number of the taxi which you have to find now. All they are waiting across the street.

Hotel India International is located in a less frequented remote area of Main Bazaar area just 100 meters away from the main (tourist) road. The hotel offers dirty rooms with own rundown shower, TV and AC. The quietest rooms have just a window to a light yard next to the stair case. Some rooms are better looking but have windows to the road which is not too busy. Rooms are starting are 695 Rs but available for less than 500 Rs with bargain.

The hotel has a roof top restaurant which is mostly deserted and offers different newspapers in the lobby.

Not very recommendable but quiet. You can find it around the corner of Major's Den Hostel in the street towards the Hotel Victoria Deluxe. This street is not on the map of Lonely Planets India guidebook.

Janpath

New Delhi 110011

Open Tuesday to Sunday from 10 AM to 5 PM.

The National Museum at New Delhi is disappointing because half of the exhibition area is close for renovation or what ever.

For the entrance fee of 300 Rs you get an audio guide in English, German, French, Japanese or Hindi. The audio files are a bit too scientific but also nice stories can be found.

A group of four or more person can get a "free" guided tour which is tells much less details than the audio guide but is also less time consuming. The guided tour takes an hour, the audio guided tour 3 hours even when you do not listen to all the explanations.

Still or video cameras are 300 Rs extra. Luggage's are not permitted inside the museum and can be left for free.

Not recommendable.

Recommendable.

Shopping:

The Bazaar area in Old Delhi is nothing special but you can find pirated CDs at the right corner opposite the Red Fort and camera equipment at the left site 100 meters down the Chandni Chowk road.

Useful:

Beware of the fake "Tourist Information Offices" which some even announce themselves as Government of India. They just want to sell you overpriced tickets.

Travel:

At the New Delhi International Airport take the exit to your right to find the bus to the city. The fare of 50 Rs includes one backpack / luggage. To the Main Bazaar area leave at New Delhi Railway Station. Cross the railway tracks by using the bridge over the platforms.

The Tourist Ticket Office at New Delhi Railway Station is located at platform No. 1.

It's difficult to book flights from local avionic companies online because most of them except just Indian credit cards. So you have to book the flights at a travel agency which charge you around 10 % more and 3% additional if you pay by credit card.

Flight Delhi to Bangalore with Spice Air for 4.230 Rs booked online but only accept Indian, US, Canadian and British Credit Cards. At the travel agency it was 4.600 Rs + 3% "cover charge" (see above).
